

Native American Resource Center -Mission-

The goal of the Riverside/San Bernardino County Indian Health, Inc.

Behavioral Health Services Native American Resource Center is to offer and expand new and existing programs and activities for American Indian/ Alaskan Native participants who reside in the County of San Bernardino. The Native American Resource Center is committed to providing services that prevent family distress, alcohol and drug use and other related problems.
This is achieved through education, prevention and treatment activities for American Indian/Alaskan Native families in San Bernardino County.

The program is designed and intended to attract interest in traditional cultural activities, and highlight positive culturally grounded activities which may prevent further serious behavioral, mental health and substance abuse conditions.
